

Cottonwood Bark Woodcarving

*Hand-carved spirit face carving done in the style of the Black Forest Germany, finished with Tung Oil and Mahogany
wax in our Oromocto, NB
studio.*

*25 inches
63.6 CM*

Size: 63.5 CM x 14 CM with a depth of 15.2 CM.

OR

Size: 25 inches x 5.5 inches with a depth of 6 inches

Right side

Back

Left side

What is Cottonwood Bark Carving? Cottonwood is a large tree that grows 20–60 m tall and with a trunk up to 3m in diameter. When fully matured, the cottonwood bark is dark gray and deeply fissured. If you wait for about two or three years after the tree has died and the bark is now dry, it will come off the tree very easily. At that point, it is perfect for carving, still hard but has incredible colour once carved. To darken the bark once carved, use Tung Oil before finishing with wax.

*www.dwcarving.com
to see more of our carvings*

