Night Eyes

Night Eyes; The Owl is an incredible bird that comes in more than 225 species in the world with about 200 of them living in North America. Mostly nocturnal and very hard to find, that said, they are incredible birds of prey. I've carved owls in the past but have been drawn back to the owl's eyes. This sculpture is designed to hang on the wall and has glow in the dark paint around the eyes bring this sculpture to life at night. The eyes are painted then coated in soft yellow epoxy to give it that life-like look. This sculpture is a combination of woodcarving, Pyrography art, epoxy art and painting.
