There are several Orca Pods (killer whales) on the west coast. The sculptures are created to represent five of the L Pod members. If you have never been able to visit BC, and go on a Orca watching tour, you should put it on your bucket list. To see a Pod in the wild is an incredible sight to see. There are currently approximatively 50,000 Killer Whales world wide with approximately 2,500 living in the North Pacific Ocean.

When ordering the Pod, each whale will be in a different position and have their unique colouring as they are in the wild. Perfect for the house, office or cottage. Just think, you could have your own Orca Pod on your wall; now that's a cool conversation piece and one of a kind.

*To order your hand sculpted Pod or individual Orca click the link below and send us an email.
Thanks and Chimo!*
